

Understanding Community Supervision

March 10 | 10:15am
Borgwardt Hall

The majority of people serving sentences for criminal behavior are not in jails and prisons: they are living in the community, being supervised on probation or post-prison supervision. Although community supervision is often seen as an alternative to incarceration, the relationship between prison rates and community supervision rates is complicated. In the first of two C4SJ sessions on understanding the current state of the criminal justice system in Wisconsin, this forum will explain how community supervision is structured, how it is experienced by those under supervision, and what can be done to improve its quality and success.

Prof. Klingele teaches criminal law, policing, sentencing and corrections. Her research on criminal justice administration focuses on community supervision and has led her to the conclusion that the criminal justice system needs more than reform; it requires reimagining. She has examined ways of easing the community trauma and expense of incarceration while maintaining public safety. Klingele has held various national leadership positions in academic law groups and has served as law clerk for US District Court and Appeals Court judges and for US Supreme Court Judge John Paul Stevens. Six children at home is protection against boredom!

EDUCATIONAL FORUM AND DISCUSSION SERIES AT BETHEL 2018-19

The Bethel community and visitors are invited to join and support groups that work in spiritual, secular, and political ways to conserve and restore God's creation.

March 2 - C4SJ

Empowering People to Break the Bias Habit:
Creating Inclusion and Reducing Bias
Workshop

Patricia G. Devine, PhD
William T. L. Cox, PhD

March 10 - C4SJ

Understanding Community Supervision
Cecelia M. Klingele, JD
Associate Professor, UW School of Law

April 7 - C4SJ

Behind the Curtain:
The Ins and Outs of Incarceration in Wisconsin
*Karen Reece, PhD, Vice President, Research &
Education at the Nehemiah Center for Urban Leadership Development*

Caring for Creation (C4C)

www.bethel-madison.org/caring-creation

Caring for Social Justice (C4SJ)

www.bethel-madison.org/caring-social-justice

BETHEL
LUTHERAN CHURCH

312 Wisconsin Ave, Madison WI
608.257.3577 | bethel-madison.org